

Summary Statement

Hope v. Indus. Special Indemn. Fund, Docket No. 40749

The Idaho Supreme Court affirmed the Idaho Industrial Commission's order that the Idaho Industrial Special Indemnity Fund (ISIF) was not liable for any of Kevin Hope's unemployment benefits. The Court held that substantial and competent evidence supported the Commission's finding that Hope failed to prove that his permanent disability was the result of a pre-existing shoulder injury combined with his most recent shoulder injury. No attorney fees on appeal. Costs to ISIF.