

SUMMARY STATEMENT

Sales v. Peabody, Docket No. 41446

Tracy Sales brought suit against spa owner Stacie Peabody, claiming she contracted a toe infection as a result of a pedicure performed at the spa. The Ada County district court granted summary judgment against Sales after concluding that she had failed to present sufficient evidence that Peabody's negligence caused her infection. The district court denied her motion for reconsideration. The Supreme Court vacated those rulings and remanded the case for further proceedings.
