Idaho Dep't of Health & Welfare v. John Doe (2014-15), Docket No. 42234

In an appeal from Ada County, the Idaho Supreme Court affirmed the magistrate court's order terminating John Doe's parental rights to his two sons, B.D. and T.D. The Supreme Court held that substantial and competent evidence supported the magistrate court's conclusion that Doe neglected B.D. and T.D. and termination of Doe's parental rights was in B.D. and T.D.'s best interests.
