

SUMMARY STATEMENT

State v. Eliasen, Docket No. 42486

A Bannock County jury found Desiree Eliasen guilty of second degree stalking based on her conduct toward a Pocatello police officer's wife. Her conviction was upheld on appeal by the district court and then by the Idaho Court of Appeals. She sought and was granted review by the Idaho Supreme Court, which also upheld her conviction after concluding that her actions constituted a "course of conduct" within the meaning of Idaho Code section 18-7906.
