

SUMMARY STATEMENT

Jones v. State
Docket No. 42664

The Idaho Supreme Court affirms Kenstler Lee Jones judgement of conviction for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, excessive alcohol concentration, felony. The Court reaffirmed its ruling in Elias-Cruz v. Idaho Dep't of Transp., 153 Idaho 200, 280 P.3d 703 (2012) that a DUI violation can be established by the test results of a properly administered BAC test because under the current DUI statutes, it is the test result, not the actual alcohol concentration, that is determinative of a violation. Therefore, the Court held that the trial court did not abuse its discretion by prohibiting evidence regarding the measurement of uncertainty associated with Jones's BAC test.
