

Summary Statement

Doe v. Idaho Dep't of Health and Welfare

Docket No. 44767-2017

The Idaho Supreme Court affirmed the Ada County magistrate court's decision to terminate John Doe's parental rights. The Court held that the magistrate court's findings that Doe was likely to remain incarcerated for a substantial period of his sons minority and that termination was in the best interest of the children were supported by substantial and competed evidence.