

SUMMARY STATEMENT

State of Idaho, Department of Health and Welfare v. Jane Doe (2019-32), Docket No. 47466

Jane Doe (Mother) appealed a magistrate court's decree terminating her parental rights to her son. The Idaho Supreme Court affirmed the magistrate court's decree, holding that the magistrate court did not err in determining that Mother neglected child and that termination was in the child's best interests.